1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Devin. Devin discloses a hull for a high speed boat with a generally V-shape and a drop off wall (step) which is capable of forming an air cushion tending to lift the hull.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 6 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Devin in view of Rizzo. Devin further discloses a peripheral chin 17 having a substantially triangular shape. Not disclosed by Devin is a longitudinal channel. Rizzo teaches a longitudinal channel 14. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the device of Devin with a longitudinal channel as taught by Rizzo for reduced drag, lower fuel consumption, and increased smoothness.

5. Claims 1-4 are allowed.

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Craddock shows a hull.
